SERBIAN COUNTER-ATTACKS AGAINST AUSTRO-GERMANS SUCCESSFUL.

THE RUSSIAN CRISIS FAVOURABLY PASSED.

The Serbians Take Guns, Much Booty, Horses and Mules.

FIGHTING IS PROCEEDING AT KRIVOLAK, KUPRULI AND USKUB.

[Reuter's Service to The "Telegraph."]

DEATH OF BARON WANGENHEIM

RESPONSIBLE FOR THE BRESLAU AND GO 3BEN BEING AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

October 25, 3,50 p.m. According to Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam a Constantinople telegram says that Baron Wangenheim, German Bulgarian at Kuprulu, otherwise Voles, and re-captured half the Ambassador to the Porte, has died, after a brief illness. The tele-town while the other half is under the fire of the Serbian guns gram says that Baron Wangenheim was responsible for the Goeben Tae Austro-Ge man advance on the Sarbian frontier does not and Breslau coming to Constantinople with all the attendant results.

THE BALKAN SITUATION.

SERBIAN COUNTER-ATTACKS COMPLETELY SUCCESSFUL.

October 25, 3.50 p.m. A Serbian communique says that the Serbian counter-attacks against the Austro-Germans have been completely successful. They took two game, four machine game and much booty, including horses and mules.

There is fighting on the Eastern front and fighting is also proceeding at Krivolsk, Kupruli and Uskub.

THE ALLIES IN THE WEST.

INCIDENTS OF THE BRITISH ATTACK ON LOOS,

October 25, 1.35 p.m. Reuter's correspondent at British Headquarters says that among Laddie." The pipers paused at the first German trench while the enemy cleared out. Two of the pipers mounted the parapets and the skirl of the pipes was audible above the crash of the bombs. One was shot, but his companion continued playing till the advance was resumed, when the pipers followed, their notes sounding triumphantly above the tumult as the smoke swallowed them up.

A Black Watch sergeant killed seven Germane with his beyonet. raingle handed.

THE RUSSIANS.

THE CRISIS PASSED IN FAVOUR OF THE RUSSIANS.

October, 25, 1.35 p.m. The Times correspondent at the Russian Headquarters has been authorised by a representative of the General Staff to state. that the crisis with regard to the Russian arms, due to the enemy's uninterrupted blows on a seven hundred miles is living in expectation of a general offensive and are looking confidently to the armies of the Allies.

The War Outlook.

At no period since the war began has the outlook been more favourable to the Allies than it is at the present time. In the ourlier stages we become accustomed to the see-sawing of progrees on one front and reverses on another. There is no more of this. The Allies have organised their strength in men and munitions and in all the main theatres they have both gained and maintained the upper hand. The assumption of the supreme military o mmand by the Emperor Nicholas resulted in embarkation by the Russian forces upon a counter-cliensive that has brought the long series of Austro-German successes in the Eastern theatre to an abrupt stop. In every sector of t'e long castern front, including the difficult terrain of the centre, the Teutonic armies are now struggling at heavy cost, not to maintain their advance, but to retain their hold upon the ground they won.

Progress in Korea.

Whenever we glance at these annual reports, which are illustrated with a number of views of the work in progress, we think what a useful object lesson Kores must efford to her great neighbour China, President Yuan Shih-kai has defined his policy as having three main objects, viz.: (1) the inauguration of an efficient educational system; (2) the development of the country's natural resources and the promotion of industrial enterprise; and (3) the efficient reorganisation of the country's military forces. The last-named is perhaps the first Lecessity, because progress and develorment are only possible on a foundation of peace and security. Happily there are many indications in China as the present time of wide-spread interest in such a policy as the President has so briefly formulated and the earnest reformer in China may well be recommended to study the practical object lessons along these lines which Japan is giving in Kores.

The Balkans Turmoli.

It is to be hoped that the 'effective bombardment' that is now proceeding there will bring Bulgaria's leaders to their senses before a general rising - which seems immirera -- takes place. among the Bulgare (the majority of whom favour Russia in preference to Germany) with disastrous effect to those who have so rashly precipitated Bulgaria in'o the turmoil. Even against vastnumerical superiority the Serbians are still holding out most gallantly, and now that the Allies are within easy distance towards rendering effective assistance the Serbiana may be relied upon to continue to cope successfully against their big and bullying neighbours. The Bulgers attacks in the bat le at Kupruli "have been completely arrested owing to a flank offineive attack by French troops on the south." This statement, in conjunction with another just made to the effect that the "Serbians claim to have taken part of Uskab," points to Serbian successes that should go a long way towards determining supremacy in the Balkans, ultimately in the Dardsuelles, and, later, in Constantinople. There is every reason to believe that the day is not far distant when the Allies will be completely triumphant in the Balkans.

London Coal. The stroke of coal in London for the coming winter held by gas, electric light, and other public utility companies are fairly satisfactory. They now exceed by 250,000 tone the emount of stocks for these companies which was planned by the speciallyappointed body which drew up a programme of London's requirements. The export of coal from this country is proceeding more freely now than it was when Mr. Russe I Ren's Coal Export-Ormmittee was set up last May This result is attributed to good working in the mines for the disputes in South Wales have not affected production very much.

Argry Farmers. The new animals' preservation order of the Board of Agriculture was charply criticised at a meeting of Freme (Somereet) Urban Counoil. The Chairman (Mr. T. C. If the war has taught dollars, it would at least be a Britsin much, it has taught Russia infinitely more; and, during the step in the right direction. long reign of peace to which we all very confidently look forward, she is going to put her war lessons to profit. Without revolution and without civil war she has re-organised herself, and her Government has reformed itself—so thoroughly, indeed, that a step back to the old order of things would be an impossibility. She cannot go back now, and since no nation can stand still, it is clear that this healthy reform must spread till it stire all classes of the people. * epresentative government is being understood there as was never case before. Representative government should mean fair and Another Cruelty Case Doult with.

-We are indeed glad to be able to record another instance of the nunishment, by our least Bench, of a man for cracky. In the latest case, reported in our issue of yesterday, the set was so IS deliberate—the pouring of hot water on a dog-that, had it been perpetrated by a European, one would have said at once that the offender was either not responsible for his actions or else had sunk to a level to which even a German could hardly have followed him. There may be children at Home who would do such a thing, but no nermal adult could be found who would be guilty of With the Eastern races it is rather different. We would not, of course, say that youring hot water on dogs is a typical Ociental diversion; but most of us know perfectly well that Chinese, as a race, have not bern trained to consider the feelof the bearts. That being so, it is for the good of this Colony struct the Chinese mind on this point without more delay. This the magistrates are endeavouring to do, but they cannot be exto walk round the cruelty. They must have the ex-operation of the police and the public. ARMENIAN MASSACRES.

The Scenes of Horror in Trebizond.

Details with regard to the persecution of the Armenians in Tarkey were recently given in the Rome Messagero by Signor Corrini, till recently the Italian Consul at Trebizond.

From the 24 b of June the Armenians in Trebizond were interned; they were then sent. eccorted by gendarmes, to distant regions, but the fate of at least four-fifths of them was death. The order for interament came from the Committee of Union and Progress. The local authorities and even the Mahometan population tried to resist and to decrease the number of the victims by biding them, but in vain. The orders from Constantinople were categorinal, and all had to obey.

The Italian Con-ul tried to intervone and save at least the women and children. He obtained several exemptions, which, however, on the orders of the Committee, were not respected. It was a veritable massacre of innocents, a flugrant violation of the rights of humanity. The Armenian Catholice, who are usually respected circular announcing the fall of except during massacres, were this time treated worse thin the Stranding of the Rafford Hall." News has been received of the stranding of the British s. Rafford Hall near the naval port of Ominato, Japan, on October 6. Owing to the severe storm on the 8th the steamer broke in two. forty-three of the British crew are missing. Later the r. Kimagayo Maru, an oil motor, on her voyage from Aomori to Hakaido recovered seven boxes containing paper notes for China, part of the cargo of the Rafford Hall. The muster and sixteen of the crew of the ill-fated vessel arrived at

TOG BOUK

Hakodate on October 10. Japan's Pacific Trade. An interesting statement is representative of the Barber S. S. Company, New York, who arrived at Yokohama by the Nippon Maru on September 9, on the recent development of Japan's shipping and its future career, says the Japan Daily Mail. Japan is destined to control the Pacific at least as far as transportation and communication are concerned, says Mr. Tiffany, for the La Follette Seamen's Liw, which will go into effect in November next, has dealt a death blow to the American shipping while at the same time helping the Japanese shipping in its efforts to control the trade in the East. The Japanese are the nation most fitted for the trade, as they can ran ships with the least expense. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha, one of their greatest shipping companies, is now reported to be building six more cargo boats of the latest type; in addition to its ninety-four large vessels assigned to the different coastwise services, the Asiatio, European Indo China and trans-Pacific services at present. The new vessels under construction. which are intended for the Panama Canal service, are of the latest type with a tonnage of 12,500 tons each, and can do 15 knots. When they are in setual operation, it can be seen easily other lines will find it impossible to compete. It is a pity, goes on S. S. Company has had to retire the trans-Pacific route, if it be a temporary measure. When the Japanese shipping is thus rising to the supreme position it will be a hard nut to crack for any American line to wedge in again and take over the P. M. service. This is another reason why he believes the destiny of the Japanese shipping to be the ruler of the Pacific. Mr. Tiffany declares that he believes the virtual amalgamation of the Toyo Kaisha and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha will be effected before long. If no formal fusion be carried out, at least some form of understanding may be reached between the two lines to show a united front before the American shipping to prevent the wedging in of the latter. In his view the Toyo Kisen Kaisha will devote all its resources to the passenger service on the trans-Pacific routes, while the Nippon Yusen Kaisha will make the freight service its speciality. When the understanding is reached San Francisco will see the busy entering and clearing of big cargo boats of the latter. He states as ground for his conviction that the Nippon Yusen Kaisha has been concentrating its energy on its efforts to get Government bounties for its contemplated cervice through the Panama Canal since last winter. Already the company has eight big steamers on the line and the service is reported now to be converted into a regular one. The Otaka Shosen Kaisha is also > busily preparing for the opening of a Panama service, remarks Mr.

Tiffany further, by tentatively therefore. Japan may be handicaped by the emallness of tonnage available, but in the long run she can dominate the Pacific. The Nippon Yusen Kaisha will not, for the present, follow the example set by the Osaka

Shosen Kaisha in increasing the San Francisco service, as the tonnage available is too small to assign the necessary amount to

THE BALKAN SITUATION.

NEW AND EFFECTIVE MEASURES FOR SUCCOURING SERBIA: him in the difficulties of the had for the public safety to watch national matches, John Cameron, October 25, 3 30 p.m. Reuter's correspondent at Paris telegraphs that the Le Temps' correspondentatAthens says:—According to information from a sound diplomatic source, the Allies have decided on new and effective measures for succouring Serbia. The British in particular have promised an immediate despatch of large numbers of troops, with full equipment and stores.

THE BULGARIAN LINE.

October 25, 3,30 p.m. The Serbian Legation at Athens on the 23rd inst., etates: The Bulgarian line towards Bulgaria was seriously threatened, owing to the French contingents being at Krivilak and Strumnitza.

The Legation denies that the Government has left Nish on account of the bombardment.

BOMBARDMENT OF DEDEAGATCH.

October 25, 3 30 p.m. An account of the bombardment of Dedeagatch is published in Athens in which it says that twenty battleships participated the bombardment for four hours, on Thursday afternoon. An aeroplane flew over the town directing the fire. A thousand soldiers were killed, including two companies who were buried in the rains of the barracks. The railway stations were burned down. Eight warships bombarded Lagos.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT SUCCESS IN CHAMPAGNE.

October 25, 5.40 p.m. Rueter's correspondent at Paris says that the French have scored another important success in Champagne. A communique says: We took a German salient, comprising a most important work and four lines of trenches, which were strongly organised along a front of 1,200 yards, with an average depth of 250 yards. The German losses were serious, they left prisoners in our hands belonging to three different regiments.

The German salient included a portion of the northern slopes of Hill 196, two killometres nor:hward of the Mesnil les Huclus fort called "The Coutine," which was carried after a severe struggle to get at them. indeed. The whole salie at was very strongly fortified, but despite thie, and the desperation of the Germans, the French, after a vigorous artillery preparation and fierce fighting, took the whole of it by the end of the day.

Just now we are playing cricket, but it is falling flat, and as there seems to be but little hope of an early release we have been been asked to arrange for another football campaign." Then Cameron comes to the main purpose of the letter. "Oan you arrange to send us a dozen footballs," he sake adding that they are most difficult to obtain in Germany, and that last season they paid as much as 18/6d each for them. Needless to say the footballs have already been sent.

The rew all-amittur figiball bas had its first trial, and as a makeshift scheme can be said to have succeeded. At any rate the play was thoroughly live and purposeful, and attendances may improve when eathusiasts realise that the players are not going to allow the matches to develop into dull and unprofitable friendlies. The Livers ool Cotton Association has published its annual circular, the statistics dealing with the season ended July 31, whilst comparative figures are made up to August 31 in previous seasons. According to Messrs. Frederick W. Tattereal and Company, the highest point of the market for American cotton during the season was on August 7, 1914, when middling was quoted at 6.50d per lb., and the lowest point was on December 12, 1914, when it was quoted at 4 25d. The average price of American cotton for the season 1914-15 was 5.22d., as compared with 7.27d. in the previous year. The average price of fully good fair Egyptian cotton was 7.34d. against 9 45d. in 1913-14. The tetal import of c raw cotton into Great Britain, compared with the preceding year, shows an increase of 451. 652 bales American and 13,673 bales E ist Indian, and a decrease of 246,026 Brazilian, 10,456 Egyptian, 24,816 Peruvian, 4,872 West Indian and 14 767 African. The average weekly consumption of raw cotton in Great Britain during the year amounted to 74810 bales, consisting of 61,720 American, 1,730 Brazilian, 6,010 Egyptian, 2,230 Peruvian, 140 West Indian, 670 African and 2,280 East Indian, being a decrease of 6,550 bales per week, or for the whole year of 340,320 The total weight of consumed in Great ie 1 931,384.752 lb. 2,077,289 597 lb. in 1913-14. The stock of cotton at torts of Great Britain amounts to 1,505,500 bales. agai at 907,562 bales at the close of 1913-14. The total importef raw cotton to Great Britain in weight is calculated to be 2,585,-614,129 lb. being an increase on the previous year of 184,909,437 lb The American cotton crop for the season just closed amounted to 15,007,000 bales, against 14,610,000 bales in the previous

The preliminary statement of the agricultural returns for England and Wales, collected in June last, issued on September 2 by the of Agriculture and Fisherice, shows a decrease in the total area under crops and grass of 61,000 acres, of which 33,000 acres represents arable land and 28,000 acres permanent grase. Wheat shows an increase of 363,-000 acres, or 20 per cent., as compared with last year, the 2,170,-000 scree under this cereal being the largest recorded since 1891, while the increase since 19:3 amounts to 469,000 acres, or nearly 28 per cent. Oats have also increased by 158,000 acres. These increases of the two most important corn crops have been obtained mainly by substituting them for barley, beans, peas and ronts. Barley shows a decrease of 273,000 acres, bringing total under this crop to the lowest on record. Turnica and awedes have fallen off by 113,000 to 932,000 acres, this being the first "occision on which the total has fallen below a million acree. Hay (whether "seeds" or meadow) has decreased by 147,000 acres. The decrease in bay may largely be attributed to the dry spring, as the area of pe manent grass re- S. C. Morning Post$29 served for grazing has increased by 102 000 acres, while clovers and seeds for grazing are about the same as in 1914. The other most important crop for human consumption—privatees shows an incresse of about 1,800 acres. All other crops, ex gellers. cept enbbige and kohl-rabi, show decreases of greater or smaller extent. The live stock returns show increases among cittle and sheep, but decreases among horses and swine. Horses, many of which have been taken for the Army, have fallen in number by 112,000 (or 8 per cent.), the greatest relative decrease being among horses not used for agricultural purposes. Cows show a decrease of 50,000 from the record figure of 1914, but are still higher than in any other year. All other cattle have increased, and the total number, 6,064,000 (186,000 more) than in 1914), constitutes the highest recorded.

Steamers may set out from one Scandinavian port to another with consignments of cotton, and there can be easily "captured" by Germany-to deacribe only one method of evad ing the blockade. The principle advantage of making cotton contraband is that under the Orders in Council the growers and shippers did not know where they into the sea. were. Now, at any rate, the situation is plain, and the world knows that Great Britain is in earnest in the effort to deprive Germany of this indispensable commodity; but the inducement to take risks will 14 and over now living in Vienna remain and the chances of evading must undergo military training the blockade are still numerous.

The question of compensation to the American grower is a upon. d flicult one. We can hardly, as some have suggested, buy up the crop which would have gone to Germany, or, if we did the payment necessary about thirty emillioa sterling) would stil further complicate the question of exchange dealt with in another note. Then if we stored this year's supply, we should be faced with the difficulty of throwing a Yarge quantity of the raw material on the market as soon as war is over, and probably thereby unduly depreciating its value. On the other hand, cotton is a variable crop-this year a American output The Telegraaf learns from the is said to be 4,000,000 bales less frontier some details regarding than that of last year-and the German methods of warfers in main problem has always been to secure a stable supply.
